

Our partnership for this assignment worked a lot better than earlier assignments with my other partner since we were done with the code a lot earlier this time around. I think what worked the best is actually meeting up in person to work on the code. That way it you cant loose focus or get distracted. Also we both understood more of the code when we talked about it together.